A TRUSTING HAND®
HOUSEKEEPING

Introduction

At A Trusting Hand, we love helping our clients reclaim their time—whether for themselves, their families, or the activities they enjoy most. We also believe our team deserves that same balance. That's why we don't work weekends or late evenings. We have been operating since April 2012 in Marietta, GA.

A Little About the Owner

My name is Sarvia and I love cleaning and organizing homes. For me cleaning it's not just tidy homes but a space where my clients can relax, breathe, and enjoy their lives. I'm dedicated to creating a home that frees them from chores so they can spend time doing what they love.

I'm originally from Mexico and the youngest of nine siblings. I studied fashion design and even had the joy of making my own wedding dress. I moved to the U.S. in 1998, and my two daughters were born here in Georgia. Through this work, I get to enjoy caring for many of our clients' furry family members too.

I started this company based on my own needs as a mother of two daughters, a wife, and a homemaker. I wanted to build a company where neither I nor my employees had to work past 5 PM or on weekends—so we could be present for our families, help with homework, share healthy dinners, and enjoy evenings at home. While my daughters are now grown, many of our team members are mothers who share these same priorities.

WE CLEAN, YOU
REST AND ENJOY LIFE.

This is our mission and our slogan: for people to spend their time in what really matters to them.
